

Curtain Prototypes

After interviewing a few users of the Kikar to learn their needs about curtains, the children sketched their initial ideas for the theater curtains. The children worked in small groups to draw a shared curtain idea. They collected materials for their rod, curtains, straps and began creating prototypes which will inform the final curtain design.

