

When walking around to visit the exhibits, you may want to ask:

Why did you choose this structure?

What is something that surprised you when doing your research?

What is your favorite fun fact about your structure?

What was the process of construction like for this structure?

Have you every visited this structure?

What architectural style or technique did you learn about through your research on this structure?

We encourage each visitor to leave a comment on the "Visitor's Log" at each exhibit

Judaic Studies - Sacred Spaces

In conjunction with the Janterm projects, Jewish Studies classes integrated architecture into the curriculum in several ways. Using the concept of "Makom Kadosh" (sacred space) as a springboard, students explored texts from Rambam (Maimonides) and other sources to determine the uniquely Jewish prescription for creating prayer space, and composed their own designs or blueprints. In addition, students wrote personal reflections about what constitutes a "Makom Kadosh," considering both form and function, as well as a place's history and the people themselves who imbue it with holiness.

Thank You!

We hope you enjoyed your world tour--thank you for learning with us and for your support and partnership in this endeavor.

Many thanks also to the KBA MS Team, Administrators, and Staff.
