

"Change the world. It just takes cents" TM in the media

http://www.denverpost.com/carman/ci_4779351 In December, 2006, the work of "Change the world..." TM was described in this article, which was later picked up by an Israeli website, Isra-Aid http://www.israaid.org.il/story_page.asp?id=987 Isra-Aid picked up this story that appeared in December, 2006 in the Denver Post and ran it as the lead article on their website

<http://denver.yourhub.com/Denver/Stories/Promotions/Top-Teacher-Awards/Story~182073.aspx> Sara Caine Kornfeld was nominated for top teacher in 2006

http://www.rockymountainnews.com/drmn/local/article/0,1299,DRMN_15_5590958,00.html It was this article of June, 2007 that prompted a challenge grant from a local philanthropist. Thanks to this challenge grant and the students' diligence, they raised $26,000 to rebuild the D-Kaire school in Korma, Darfur http://www.savedarfur.org/section/heroes_archive/September_heroes/: "Change the world..." TM were Save Darfur's September, 2007 Darfur Heroes on the web

<http://www.socialaction.com/teens/teens.shtml> The "Change the world..."TM program was featured on this Tikkun Olam Website in October, 2007

<http://www.jewishcurrentevents.com/> This Oct, 2007 article reached 3000 American Jewish teens in their Day School and supplementary schools

<http://denver.yourhub.com/DenverSoutheast/Stories/Education/Teacher-News/Story~400083.aspx> In Dec 2007 "Change the world..." TM hosted a Reverend who buys back child slaves in Darfur

<http://www.tentsofhope.org/change.pdf> This "Change the world..."TM resource guide appears on the website for Tents of Hope (www.Tentsofhope.org) , Save Darfur (www.Savedarfur.org) , and Damanga (www.Damanga.org)

<http://www.ushmm.org/conscience/action/profile/>

In January, 2008, the students of "Change the world..."TM were featured on the US Holocaust Memorial Museum's website as students speaking out against genocide

<http://denver.yourhub.com/DenverSoutheast/Stories/Community/Community-happenings/Story~414048.aspx> Darfur Activists Stand with Colorado Students, description of 2/07/08 "Change the world..."TM anti-genocide Darfur Forum and its speakers

<http://denver.yourhub.com/DenverSoutheast/Stories/News/Activism/Story~414434.aspx> Story about Darfuri art teacher, Kamal Khamis, teaching "Change the world. It just takes cents" TM students

<http://www.dailycamera.com/news/2008/feb/08/darfur-forum-inspires-students-to-help/#comments> "Darfur forum inspires students to help 18 middle and high schools learn about ethnic conflict": 2/8/08 Daily Camera story about the 2/7/08 2nd annual anti-genocide Darfur Forum organized by "Change the world. It just takes cents" TM for 525 students from 18 schools in the Denver/Boulder/ Colorado Springs area.

http://www.thegreenbergcenter.org/Feb%202008%20bulletin_program_jan.pdf Flyer advertising the participation of the "Change the world. It just takes cents" TM students in the opening ceremonies of a Genocide exhibit in Colorado Springs on 2/2/08 and on 2/3/08.

<http://denver.yourhub.com/DenverSoutheast/Stories/News/General-News/Story~440626.aspx> WORDS TRANSLATED INTO ACTION CAN CHANGE THE WORLD: article about the anti-genocide Darfur Forum where 525 students from the Denver-metro area participated (19 schools). The follow up to the Forum is the formation of a Darfur Student Activities Council whose first task is to plan a rally on 5/18/08," Awakening the Silence: Darfur-Sudan"

<http://www.genocideintervention.net/events/2008/02/06/1487> Genocide Intervention Network's account of Adam Sterling's Denver visit and presentation at various Denver venues, including the second annual "Change the world. It just takes cents" TM anti-genocide middle-school Darfur Forum.

<http://intranet.kentdenver.org/newspaper/darfur-forum-takes-place-in-anchutz/> Kent Denver's account of the second annual "Change the world. It just takes cents" TM anti-genocide middle-school Darfur Forum.

<http://teamdarfur.org/blog?page=6>
Annamari Maaranen speaks with students about Darfur
June 3rd, 2008, Olympic bound Finnish gymnast who is also a member of Team Darfur visits students from "Change the world. It just takes cents"TM in Denver, Colorado.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1SxXoGNP56g> "Change for Dying Darfur", Darfur rap written by Simon Kaufman, (2nd generation "Change the world. It just takes cents."TM student), December, 2007. Darfur rap describing life in Darfur, comparing it to a privileged life in the US, discussing China's role in the Genocide as it prepares to host the 2008 Summer Olympics.

<http://connect.oc.edu/news/16401/> Phillip Woolley, graduate of Oklahoma Christian University and Denver teacher discusses the causes he supports and mentions "Change the world. It just takes cents" TM by name http://www.denverfordarfur.org/DFD/What_Else_Can_I_Do.html "Change the world. It just takes cents" TM is featured as an active Colorado student organization on the Denver for Darfur Website.

http://www.genocideintervention.net/blog/2008/09/11/changing_the_world_with_1_800_genocide Simon Kaufman, "Change the world. It just takes cents" TM student, writes about a 1-800-

GENOCIDE victory

<http://worldoutsidemyshoes.org/blog/> Carl Wilkins includes a photo of his visit to “Change the world. It just takes cents” TM on his blog (photo #11)

<http://denver.yourhub.com/DenverSouth/Stories/Education/High-School/Story~553032.aspx?IsDraft=False> “Students Change The World: One Event At A Time”; “Change the world. It just takes cents” TM teen activists go to the Children’s Holocaust Memorial in Whitwell, TN for a rededication ceremony and to be filmed for inclusion in the second “Paperclips” documentary. From there, they continue to the “Tents of Hope” rally on and around the Washington, DC Mall, to lead teen leadership and advocacy workshops.

http://www.bethechangeaction.org/servicenation/take_action/stories/view/78 Description of “Change the world. It just takes cents” TM; mission, goals, purpose, process, service performed and achievements.

http://www.damanga.org/newsroom/upcoming_events/DenvertoDarfur.html : Executive Director Mohamed Yahya Attended Children To Children, Denver To Darfur Denver, December 15, 2008; Mohamed Yahya, CEO/President of Damanga Coalition for Freedom and Democracy visited Denver for a city-wide Candle Light Vigil and to address students at Hamilton Middle School under the auspices of "Change the world. It just takes cents" TM (Dec.13-15, 2008)

<http://denver.yourhub.com/DenverSouth/Stories/News/About-Town/Story~580909.aspx> 950 students representing 24 schools gathered at the third annual “Change the world. It just takes cents”TM anti-genocide Darfur Forum, to denounce the atrocities in Darfur. One school flew in from Mattole, California for the event.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bwhAypgzTC0> YouTube uploaded by “Keeping It Real Colorado” (www.keepingitrealcolorado.com) about the third annual “Change the world. It just takes cents”TM anti-genocide Darfur Forum.

<http://denver.yourhub.com/DenverSouth/Stories/Education/Middle/Story~620803.aspx?IsDraft=False> Two “Change the world. It just takes cents”TM students raised over $1000 by selling lollipops at their schools.

http://www.kbdi.org/on_demand/video_player.cfm?video=1372 Studio 12 "Slavery Past & Present: Sudan and Darfur (June 17, 2009 Edition)" Emmy nominated Tamara Banks, longtime Colorado reporter, news anchor and Denver Neighborhood Liaison for the Mayor, talks about her quest to get the real story about crimes against humanity in Sudan and Darfur. Her guests are, among others, founding student member of “Change the world...”TM, Dani Fried.

<http://denver.yourhub.com/DenverSouth/Stories/Fundraising/Story~629008.aspx> “Students continue to lend support to Darfur cause” “Change the world. It just takes cents”™ students finish the 2008-2009 school year with meeting Jane Goodall, writing letters of support to Mia Farrow, welcoming Colorado Representative Joe Miklosi, being represented at Diversity day, making a presentation at the Institute for Sustainable Peace, appearing on TV with Emmy nominated news reporter Tamara Banks and standing alongside modern day abolitionists.

<http://denver.yourhub.com/GreenwoodVillage/Stories/News/Nonprofit/Story~628094.aspx> “Student strives for change with cents” by Joseph Nagle. Emmy nominated news reporter Tamara Banks discusses Darfur with Dani Freid, Christian Solidarity International modern day abolitionist Pastor Heidi McGinness, former Congressmen Tom Tancredo, and Isaac Khor Bher on KBDI's Studio 12

<http://denver.yourhub.com/DenverNorth/Stories/Goings-on/Story~646673.aspx?IsDraft=False>,
<http://denver.yourhub.com/GreenwoodVillage/Stories/Goings-on/Story~646694.aspx?IsDraft=False>,
<http://denver.yourhub.com/Englewood/Stories/Goings-on/Story~646696.aspx?IsDraft=False>,
<http://denver.yourhub.com/HighlandsRanch/Stories/Goings-on/Story~646699.aspx?IsDraft=False>,
<http://denver.yourhub.com/Boulder/Stories/Goings-on/Story~646720.aspx?IsDraft=False>,
<http://denver.yourhub.com/Aurora/Stories/Goings-on/Story~646729.aspx?IsDraft=False>,
<http://denver.yourhub.com/Littleton/Stories/Goings-on/Story~646734.aspx?IsDraft=False>,
<http://denver.yourhub.com/Denver/Stories/Goings-on/Story~646939.aspx?IsDraft=False>, <http://denver.yourhub.com/DenverSouth/Stories/Goings-on/Story~646941.aspx?IsDraft=False>, “Teen Movement Motivates Social Awareness”, “Change the world. It just takes cents”™ collaborates with BMH/BJ synagogue in organizing, “Women Aware: From Thought to Action”, an exhibit of children’s art from various regions of conflict, to motivate people to stand up to injustice.

<http://www.jewishcommunityheroes.org/nominees/profile/sara-caine-kornfeld/> “Change the world. It just takes cents”™ founder/mentor is nominated for an award recognizing her as a community leader in the field of education and teen empowerment.

<http://jta.org/news/article/2009/10/20/1008608/darfur-activists-happy-with-new-policy-but-waiting-to-see-results> Among other Jewish Leaders, Sara Caine Kornfeld, , founder/mentor/educator of “Change the world. It just takes cents”™, was invited to voice her opinion regarding the 10/19/09 Obama policy on Darfur

http://washingtonparkprofile.com/index.php?option=com_content&task=view&id=694&Itemid=1 Various youth initiatives, including “Change the world. It just takes cents”™ highlight the power of the youth voice

<http://denver.yourhub.com/DenverSouth/Stories/News/How-to-Get-Involved/Story~723147.aspx>

“Change the world. It just takes cents”™ hosts its 4th annual student-led anti-genocide Darfur Forum, “...and justice for ALL”, featuring International Criminal Court lawyer David Akerson, activist Katie-Jay Scott of Stop Genocide Now, head of the Darfuri Journalist’s Association Al-Ghali Shegifat and Sudan presidential candidate Hashim el-Tinay.

<http://www.9news.com/news/article.aspx?storyid=133104&catid=222> Simon Kaufman, a 9-Kid-Who-Cares, credits “Change the world. It just takes cents”™ with training him to be active in “Tikkun Olam”, fixing the world.

http://campaign.constantcontact.com/render?v=001fHRgY6J0INPX6o5zZlbMO6-YvKJdudmT1B3jQXuMZor9myl8s2P5zxLwyzwyD5jbUyxHCpvM8OTu93FtxljYtmsfBcqTbyWokqSIYjZczDYC0uDgCkgRjUah6MT8_0NWjXFK4vgOxQQ%3D Sara Caine Kornfeld flew in from Denver to Barrack Academy in Bryn Mawr, PA to address a Human Rights conference and to talk about human rights violations in the Sudan. Sara is department chair of tikkun olam at the Herzl/RMHA Upper School in Denver and founder of "Change the world. It just takes cents," TM, an international movement of high school students concerned with Darfur.

<http://denver.yourhub.com/Denver/Stories/News/How-to-Get-Involved/Story~742304.aspx> “Change the world. It just takes cents”™ leads the state of Colorado in the 50 Days/ 50 States campaign protesting the Sudan Sham elections of April, 2010.

<http://denver.yourhub.com/Denver/Stories/School-News/Story~894862.aspx> On 10/12/10, 5th generation “Change the world. It just takes cents”™ students host Speaker of the Colorado House, Terrance Carroll in their classroom to learn about their movement

“Students Change the World”, ESRA, Nov/Dec, edition 157 Change the world... students raise funds in support of an Ethiopian sewing center in Netanya, Israel

http://www.areyvut.org/teen_scene/seen_this_teen/, <http://www.areyvut.org/organizations/>, Areyvut.com features five Generation 5 students (and the movement) as their February 2011 activists/heroes for their work with CTWIJTC

<http://www.telavivfoundation.org/ctwijtc.html> “Change the world. It just takes cents” partners with the Tel Aviv foundation to build a day care center in Tel Aviv for 70 Eritrean and Darfuri refugees.

<http://denver.yourhub.com/Denver/Stories/News/Nonprofit/Story~980703.aspx> Refugee children in Israel offer thanks to “Change the world. It just takes cents” TM for building them a day care center in Tel Aviv.

<http://www.unmultimedia.org/tv/webcast/2011/10/what-you-wish-for-a-short-story-and-poetry-anthology-for-youth.html> United Nations Web Cast about What You Wish For, a short story and poetry anthology for youth, 17 October 2011; Darfuri refugee and Activist Mohamed

Yahya recognizes “Change the world. It just takes cents”™ as outspoken activists for youth at a conference at the UN’s Dag Hammarskjöld auditorium.