

Did you know.....

When we heat our houses in the winter, it is bad for the environment because it burns fossil fuels.

This is how you can help.....

Turn down your thermostat to decrease your carbon footprint and to not waste fossil fuels. Put rugs on your floor and add a layer by wearing sweaters or jackets inside. Surprisingly, you should also turn on ceiling fans because they move the heat around. Your actions can help Knoxville use less fossil fuels.